Task 2 (6 pts)
Learning a coding language like Python is a difficult task. Scripting (i.e., writing computer code to perform various tasks) is perhaps even more difficult. Both require using English grammar and syntax in completely new ways. Given our brief introduction to scripting, answer the following questions:

1. How would you evaluate or characterize the Python language?
2. Did you find using the command-line for computer-based tasks helpful or burdensome?
3. How far did you get in the sequence of homework tasks: Install Python? Install Spyder? Get an API key? Setup a virtual environment? Install SDKs for Google or OpenAI? Install the Natural Language Toolkit (NLTK)? Obtain an AI-based translation from .txt or .pdf file? Run a comparative analysis of translation quality using a METEOR score using the NLTK?
4. Give two reasons why API-based access to AI agents is more powerful than simple queries to public agents like ChatGPT.

Task 2 (6 pts)

1. It has been nearly 40 years since the Brundtland report was published. Have the recommendations of the report been realized? Is the world now on a path to sustainability? Is modern society resilient?
2. Read between the lines. What is the role of religion / cosmology / world view in relation to sustainability?

Task 3 (6 pts)
Creative writing may be an enjoyable activity or a painful drudgery; or both! Answer the following questions regarding our brief exploration of creative writing:

1. Do you enjoy creative writing (i.e., writing stories, poems, song lyrics, dialog for plays, etc.)?
2. Of the pieces you wrote for class which was your favorite? Explain why.
